

Crumbl Cookies Not Worth The Hype

Sugar ft. Mother's Reindeer Games: 2/10

The cookie looked very nice and very festive. The icing on the cookie was hard to the touch and when I took a bite it was also hard. The cookie didn't have much flavor. I took multiple bites to try and decipher a flavor but I couldn't figure it out. The icing on the animal cracker on top had partially melted into the white icing all over the cookie. The cookie was very basic and by far the worst one I tried.

Chocolate ft. York: 8.5/10

The cookie was a chocolate cookie topped with chocolate icing and a mint filling on the inside. The cookie and the icing were soft. The taste of chocolate was very strong but the mint filling balanced it out. The cookie kind of reminded me of mint chocolate chip ice cream. Overall this is my favorite cookie I tried.

Gingerbread Cake: 6/10

The base of the cookie was a gingerbread cookie. The icing was a cream cheese frosting with little gingerbread sprinkles on top. The base of the cookie and the icing were very soft. After the first bite my first thought was that the taste of gingerbread wasn't very strong and was easily overpowered by the icing. The cookie was really good but there wasn't anything special about it.
