

Dunkin' Doughnuts iced coffee vs Starbucks iced coffee

By:Giada DeCapio

Dunkin' Doughnuts and Starbucks have always had competition with each other for over 50 years now, so I wanted to see whos was better. Personally I've always gone to Starbucks because it's closer to my house but if Dunkin' is better I will drive the extra miles for better coffee. I went and ordered a large iced coffee, it was $2.79. It was very good for how cheap it was and the staff were very nice! I felt that they could use less ice and more coffee. When I was done I still had a whole cup of ice left. Next I drove to Starbucks for a Trenta iced coffee for $3.45. It was good but a little too sweet for me. When we got to the window the lady who gave us our drinks didn't talk to us at all and felt very rushed. I ordered both of these drinks with milk and sugar. Overall I liked Dunkin' the best because you get good quality coffee for cheap and good customer service. Since Dunkin' has been open for 21 more years than Starbucks, Dunkin has more experience.

Dunkin' also has anytime breakfast with sandwiches ranging from $1.39-$3.69. They are also known for their donuts that go for a dollar a piece. They have other bakery items like muffins for $1.69, bagels for a dollar, munchkins for $6.29, and croissants for $1.29. Small coffee goes for $1.59, small iced coffee goes for $1.99 and cappuccinos for $2.69. This is just a small portion of what coffee they serve.

Starbucks offers more than just drinks, they serve sandwiches, cake pops, brownies, flatbreads, lunch packs and more. Sandwiches and lunch packs can go for about $5.59, cake pops for $1.95. Starbucks also serves breakfast items that range around $3.45. Their hand shaken teas can go for $3.45 while frap-puccinos go for about $4.25. Normal coffees can go for $3.35-$4.35.
